

International conference
“Scientific and technical information STI-2018”

International conference “Scientific and technical information STI-2018” will take place on 20-21 of September 2018 in Minsk (Republic of Belarus) within the frame of the International Forum “Informational support of science and education – 2018”.

Hosted by the intergovernmental organization International Centre for Scientific and Technical Information, hereinafter - ICSTI, State Committee on Science and Technologies of the Republic of Belarus, the Library of natural sciences of the Russian Academy of Science.

Partners: Russian Foundation for Basic Research (RFBR), Russian Science Foundation RSF), CIS Business Center for Economic Development, United Nations Industrial Development Organization (UNIDO), Clarivate Analytics.

Subject of the conference: production, dissemination and use of scientific knowledge.

Lead experts of ICSTI member states as well as invited speakers will discuss development of national informational systems, formation of regional and global informational infrastructure, world’s practices on scientific and technical information production and consumption management.

Subjects for discussion:

- challenges to the development of science and education in digital economy;
- the implementation of the scalable innovation using digital technologies;
- popularization and promotion of research results to the Russian and international information space;
- programs and practices of development of new competences;
- tools for assessing the scientific activities of researchers and research organizations.

STI – 2018 sections:

- Science information
- Technical information
- Information infrastructure

Venue: National Academy of Sciences of Belarus, Minsk, Republic of Belarus, Independence avenue, 66.